Differentiators

As a small business we understand that referrals are essential to the survival of our company. By having a small company, we are able to develop strong relationships with each of our clients because we can focus on the customer and system user. Our staff provides on-site support to solve the customer's needs without them having to go through several departments to receive assistance. At TXW, we encourage our staff to gain certifications through various employment programs. The staff holds a wide range of certifications so we can provide a variety of services to our customers.

Company Experience

TXW provide services to clients that are in the financial, health, and telecommunication industries. Managed by IT professionals, this is realized by applying features such as high availability, redundancy, fault-tolerance, high security and contingency/disaster recovery planning. Our company teams with small and large businesses when necessary to increase our overall depth and geographic reach. This increases our ability to best meet customer's need for a responsive, compliant engineering, and professional support services organization. At TXW, key aspect of management is the commitment to provide quality communications throughout our organization and that of our clients.
